

StoryChasers

CANTERBURY PUBLIC SCHOOL

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

Everything You Need to Know About Plants

Ellie M, Year 2

If you want to plant a seed then you should read this. Plants need water, good soil, sunshine, and shade. First you have to dig a small hole, put the seed in and then fill it up with soil. Then you have to wait. It is a good idea to water your plants at least once every day. Use clear water. Make sure that your plants have enough sunlight and shade.

After a few weeks, your plants will start to grow. Soon the plant will grow into whatever the plant should grow into. Some plants grow into flowers. Plants take time to grow. Most plants have three parts. They are the stem, the roots and the flower. Some plants do not have flowers.

Bees pollinate flowers to grow seeds, fruits and vegetables. This is called pollination.

Plants can be different shapes and sizes. Some plants grow fruit, vegetables or flowers. Seeds can be in seed pods, flowers and other places. You can plant seeds in pots or in the ground.

Food that is grown on a plant can come from the roots, the flower or the stem. For example, carrots come from the roots of the plant.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

Some plants are enormous! Others are tiny.

In the morning, small droplets of water land on the leaves of plants. The sun can quickly dry up the water and after that the plants can dry up.

When you plant a seed, do not plant it in rocky areas unless the plant is meant to grow in rocky areas. Make sure your plant has enough space, water, soil and sunshine.

Different plants need to be planted at different times. If you have bought a plant or seeds, then follow the instructions.

Plants love compost. Compost is made with different materials. Think about it like a delicious treat for plants. To make compost, you use food scraps, paper, cardboard and newspaper. First you add the food scraps. Then add the paper. Keep doing that. Compost takes a while to break down.

Italy

Mason, Year 5

Italy is a well known place for its food, background, architecture, art, opera and more. Rome was founded by Romulus and Remus in 753 BC.

Before pasta, noodles were invented in China. Legend has it that Marco Polo took the idea of noodles and made it into pasta, then brought it to central Italy in the 13 century.

Italy's most famous foods are; Spaghetti alla Carbonara, Napoletana Pizza, Risotto, Arancini, Fiorentina Steak, Polenta, Ossobuco and Truffles. Also, Italy's most famous sauce is bolognese and penne is Italy's most famous pasta type.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

Opera was born in Italy which has amazing stages to perform on. Some of their masterpieces are; Parole Parole, Time to Say Goodbye, O Sole Mio, and La Solitudine. A few of Italy's best singers include; Mina, Laura Pausini, Patty Pravo, and Eros Ramazzotti.

There are three very popular places that tourists love to visit in Italy; The Colosseum, The Pantheon and the Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore.

The Colosseum is over 1 900 years old and Gladiatorial shows took place in the Colosseum. It is famous for being the world's largest amphitheater and is now one of the New 7 World Wonders.

The Pantheon is 1 898 years old and its original purpose is unknown. It holds some dead kings who were buried in it! Strangely, there's a hole in the Pantheon dome.

The famous Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore is 727 years old! It took 140 years to build and has the largest masonry dome in the world. The dome took 16 years to complete. Additionally the Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore is the 4th largest church in the world!

Italy is a beautiful place to visit and tour many famous landmarks, see the opera and eat delicious food every day. So go and visit one or two delightful towns in Italy and have the best time of your life!

Big Paintball

Christopher, Year 3

Big Paintball is a game on Roblox where you try to tag other people with your paintball gun.

The game modes are acronyms including:

TDM (Team Deathmatch)

FFA (Free For All)

KOTH (King Of The Hill)

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

The objective is to tag as many people as you can (only for TDM, FFA). For KOTH, you need to hold the hill until you get 100%. Meanwhile the opposite team is shooting at you and trying to get the hill off you.

KOTH tips: Do not head straight for the hill. Go with another person. Go around the map and tag the other players.

TDM tips: Spawn camp players. This will prevent them from tagging anyone.

FFA tips: Relies on chance because of people coming from behind and tagging you.

I have the scar paintball gun as I am an experienced player. My friend, Bosco, has a unicorn gun (as far as I know).

I recommend trying this game. It is a lot of fun!

Bondi Beach

Lizzie, Year 6

Bondi Beach is a beach known by many Australians across the country and for good reasons.

Bondi Beach is a very famous beach, well-known for its beauty and surf culture. This beach has been a great tourist destination for over 100 years and attracts millions of people every year because of its soft sand, clear turquoise water and the great restaurants, cafes and shops nearby.

For many people, going to Bondi Beach is part of their everyday routine. Some people surf every morning and some people even do yoga classes on the sand. Even just going for a dip in the cool water can make your day a bit better.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

A lot of people like to go down to the Bondi Icebergs Club, which is one of the oldest swimming clubs in Australia (founded in 1929). There is a 50 metre pool and a wading pool for children. Both pools are open to the public, and there is also a bar and bistro.

Another great activity is scuba diving! There are numerous specialist scuba companies that go out just off the coast of Bondi almost every day and will show you amazing marine life. The more you do it, the more you will understand the unique and fascinating ecosystem that helps the fish and ocean life thrive in this part of the country.

The Bondi to Coogee walk is a 6km track that links four beautiful beaches. Between May and November, you can see whales during their yearly migration at one of the points along the coastal walk.

Bondi Beach is a beautiful place to visit where you can do many activities like surfing, yoga and the Bondi to Coogee walk.

Rampaging Guinea Pigs Rise of the Beast

Liam, Year 2

CHAPTER ONE: THE DREADFUL NEWS

Scotty and Frosty were playing scissors, paper, rock until their computers started beeping. They checked out what was going on. A creature was causing mass destruction destroying entire police departments, and the guinea pig police department was the last one left!

Scotty and Frosty burst out of the door and ran to Canterbury Road. There was this weird figure flashing before their eyes. It was picking up cars and throwing them on top of houses. It was stomping on people and ripping their heads off. Scotty and Frosty were scared but determined. But they already knew they could not defeat this creature on their own.

Scotty and Frosty ran back to the guinea pig police department and explained their plan to the other guinea pigs.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

The guinea pigs plan was to make a massive robot to demolish the creature so they worked and worked. They put in all the bits and pieces. It took them a while, long enough for the beast to demolish lots of stuff.

Finally, the guinea pigs finished building the robot, and they were ready to battle the wretched creature. Scotty and Frosty got into the control room, then made the robot stomp out of the police department and onto Canterbury Road to fight the beast.

The figure noticed them and turned around. The guinea pigs made the robot's hand turn into a gun and started shooting missiles.

The creature dodged the missiles and it started roaring. It ran up to the robot and started to bite it.

Then the robot made a bright light shine out of its body and the creature went psycho. It was howling. That was when the guinea pigs realised what it was. But before they could email the other guinea pigs, the monster sunk its claws into the robot's ribs and threw it high up into the air.

Scotty and Frosty panicked and thought fast. Frosty told Scotty to flick the evacuation button on their chairs and it immediately flung the guinea pigs in the air with parachutes strapped to their backs.

They pulled the cord to release the chute and landed safely in Marrickville, where they watched their creation blow up.

It looked as if the whole universe had exploded! All the other guinea pigs saw what happened and they were shocked. Scotty and Frosty ran back to the lab as fast as they could to make sure the monster couldn't get them.

Scotty and Frosty told the other guinea pigs what happened, then told them the monster was a...mutant werewolf! The guinea pigs squeaked and wailed.

"WE'RE ALL GONNA DIE!" said Bob.

"IT'S GONNA GET US!" squeaked Anthony.

"Calm down, calm down. We know what we did wrong. This time, we need to do the same thing, except we'll add upgrades like invisibility,

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

laser eyes, flying, and every single one of you will be in a body part of our new robot.” explained Frosty.

“Wouldn’t it take very long to rebuild it?” asked Lory.

“No, of course not, because you already know how to build it, so you’ll definitely be able to do it again. Let’s get started!” assured Scotty.

They worked and worked and worked and worked and worked and worked and worked and worked until they were finished.

“Aaaaaaaahhhhhh! Satisfaction!” they said at once.

“Now all we need to do is add the upgrades,” said Frosty to Scotty.

So, they did and ended up with a brand-new robot. They were ready to test it out in the big thing’s gym. They tested it for days and days until they finally knew they were ready.

Luckily, they left the gym before it got destroyed by the mutant werewolf.

CHAPTER TWO: THE BIG BATTLE

At midnight, with the full moon shining down, the robot had its invisibility on and the guinea pigs were ready to battle.

The robot was creeping up on the werewolf and Scotty switched on the laser eyes and burnt the werewolf, leaving a big scar.

Eventually, the werewolf figured out what was going on and attacked the robot in the function spot and the robot lost its laser eyes! The guinea pigs got furious and started to fly up and then Bob reported that Anthony and Lory had DIED!

The guinea pigs got very sad, but they just knew they had to keep going.

They flew up into the air and dived down, landing a big great punch that caused the werewolf to fly! When it smacked on the ground, it immediately got up and started pushing the robot.

Frosty pushed a button and the robot’s fingers turned into sharp knives. Scotty made Bob shift the hands into the werewolf, puncturing its hips and it howled in pain.

“AAAAAAA

RRRRRRRRR

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

OOOOOOOOOO!!!” went to the werewolf, then the robot disappeared. It had turned back into invisibility mode. The werewolf was sniffing suspiciously and then he got the robot’s scent and bit the robot on the head. Frosty said, “Look! A hand pressing on the eye, they must be controlling in the head...Like us! ALRIGHT EVERYBODY, SINK THE CLAWS INTO THE HEAD AND RIP IT FROM WHERE IT USED TO BE!”

AHHHHHHHHHHH!” went the guinea pigs. And Bob immediately swung the robot arm into the werewolf’s ribs and lots of flesh oozed out, then the werewolf got furious and kicked the robot in the function spot where he had hit it earlier. Straight after, the beast started to run. It must have known what they were saying.

After that, they both retreated and they went off to repair. The guinea pigs fixed their robot and the werewolf fixed its wound and soon they were ready to continue. They wouldn’t let the werewolf run away so they switched to flight mode and flew in front of the werewolf and threw it back to where it was.

The werewolf tore off the battery cover and scratched up the batteries. Already the werewolf had injured the robot and Frosty thought for a second and said, “Someone must be controlling this because it’s got a decent brain.” But then Frosty said, “Why did Thomas not rip off the head?” Scotty replied, “I don’t know, I’ll ask him. Tom, why didn’t you rip its head off?”

“Be quiet!” yelled Tom.

“Huh? Why did he just say that?” asked Scotty.

BAM! “AAAAHHHHHH, WE’RE UNDER ATTACK!” screamed the guinea pigs.

The werewolf was fiercely biting the robot. Suddenly they heard screaming coming from the robot’s arm.

“AAAAHHHHHH, STOP THOMAS!” the

Scotty was looking very carefully, then

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

screaming continued.

They looked down and saw Tom trying to kill Bob, then Scotty noticed Tom had been possessed and he had purple eyes!

Lila came rushing into the robot's arm and stabbed some sort of EpiPen thing into Thomas, then she said, "He'll be passed out for a while but then he will be better."

"Alright," said Frosty, as he flung the werewolf off them. "Who's going to control the left arm?"

"I will!" demanded Lila.

"Right," said Frosty, "let's defeat this ugly creature."

They flew over to the werewolf and switched on the claws and went into invisibility mode. The werewolf was sniffing suspiciously, but fortunately, before it could sniff them out, the guinea pigs put it in a headlock and started to sink the robot claws into the werewolf, causing it to howl in pain.

The guinea pigs were putting all their effort and strength to the arms, and the top of the head flew off and went high, high in the air until it disappeared.

In the corner of Frosty's eye, he saw a figure heading towards the slain werewolf's body, but before it could get there, Frosty made the arm pick it up. It was holding onto something, so they couldn't pull it out. Then the werewolf was trying to get up because something else was controlling it, but the werewolf was too weak.

Scotty said, "It is probably too damaged to work anymore after all the fighting and the head ripping."

Suddenly, two creatures flew out of the body and yelled, "Catch me if you can!" before they ran off.

Unfortunately, only Frosty saw the creatures. RATS!

TO BE CONTINUED IN 2024 as...
RAMPAGING GUINEA PIGS THE UNLUCKY FIND...

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

If you enjoy these stories and you're not in StoryChasers, you should sign up and make some fantastic stories of your own. Also, over the page are my beautiful guinea pigs in real life and I was the one to tame and raise them.

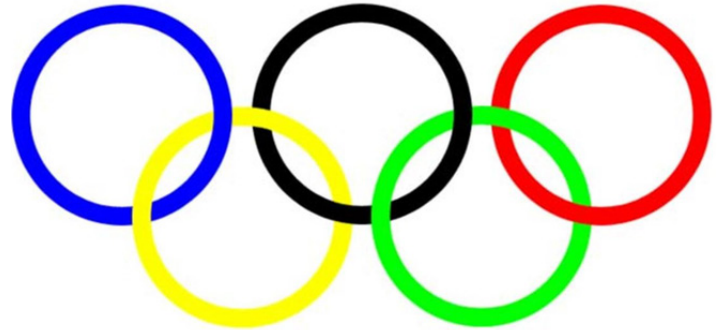

The 2024 Olympic Games

Nils, Year 5

The next Olympic Games will be held in France on the 26th of July to the 11th of August 2024.

You are probably wondering about what sports will be held at the Olympic Games and if there are any being introduced. There are four additional sports being added to the 2024 Olympic Games which are skateboarding, surfing, breakdancing, and sport climbing. In the 2028 Olympic Games, six sports will be added including softball, squash, flag football, baseball, lacrosse, and cricket.

Some of the oldest sports that are still around today are running, long jump, shot put, javelin, boxing, pankration (boxing and wrestling), and equestrian events.

There are 297 Australians competing in the 2024 Olympics.

The most successful Olympian of all time is swimmer, Michael Phelps from the United States of America.

June and the Quest

Grace, Year 2

June was a shy girl who was really tall with green eyes, black hair and a fringe that was red. She only had one friend called Rose who was small and skinny with short brunette hair.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

One day June was writing a song. When she finished her song, June was whisked into a different land! Suddenly a deer came along. "Hello, what is your name?" asked the deer.

"Oh my gosh!" thought June, "A talking deer?" June answered, "Um, er, I'm June."

The deer ran away. Some time later, a king came to June. "Hello, my dear," the king said. "Why are you here, may I ask?"

"I was whisked over," answered June.

"Oh? Nobody gets whisked, they get called, dear. The Queen does it." Then he smiled.

"Okay, well what do I have to do then?" asked June

"Why don't we let the Queen tell you?" asked the king. "Come on." Then off they went.

They came to a castle. "Here we are," said the king. Then he told the guards to open the gates. They walked in and entered a couple of rooms until they reached the throne room. "Hello, dear," came a voice that was soothing and beautiful. "I am the Queen. I shall give you a task for your own goodness."

"What do you mean, Your Majesty?" asked June.

"Well you are shy and quiet," said the Queen.

"How do you know that?" exclaimed June, astonished.

"I know everything about everyone, June."

"Wow, that is cool, Your Majesty," said June, not forgetting to say the words 'your majesty.'

"Yes, it is very cool. Now I must dearly tell you your task," said the queen, beautifully. "Your task is to find the Crystal of Bravery. It lies at the cave of Mount Considine named after the principal of Canterbury Public School in Sydney. Ahh, lovely principal she was. I did like her."

And then that was it. June was going to go to Mount Considine to find the Crystal of Bravery.

To Be Continued.

The BEST Config for Roblox Bedwars | Vape V4

Stavros, Year 4

Before knowing about these best configs, we need to know about Vape, one of the most popular and best scripts for Roblox Bedwars. This script made in Lua gives you an advantage over the average player.

Vape V4 is a script that requires an executor to run the script. These executors could be Evon, KRNL, Fluxus, Electron and more.

This script gives you advantages such as Fly, Aura, Speed, Disabler, AutoLeave, AutoClicker and more.

BEST CONFIGS

Configurations are popular for Vape. It helps bring in new people who want an advantage over players. It's done on YouTube by content creators like @7GrandDadVape, @TheMagicPiston, @stavexploitz, @0prime and more.

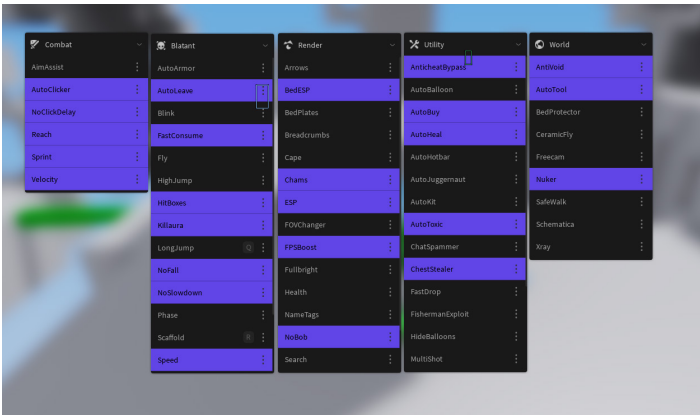

For now, the toughest, strongest, and best Vape V4 configs are Skid-Ware, Pistonware, Voidware, Lunar Vape and Lunar Client. They are tough competitors within the Roblox Bedwars hacking scene. Skid-Ware IS the best private config (soon to be a sub-config) for Vape V4, with a fast disabler reaching speeds up to 80. The disabler is ping-wise. This config has anime girls that are safe for work. This config can unlock your FPS and camera.

We also have another competitor and a decent config called Pistonware that has a disabler that goes up to 60 speed, but it has an AnticheatAbuse module that slows down the disabler when it lags. And the owner is pretty cool.

PISTON WARE'S OWNER HAS LEFT THE COMMUNITY

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

Voidware is another competitor within the ROBLOX bedwars cheating scene. Voidware has a disabler that goes up to 65 speed. They also have other features such as ba- no wait, I meant cool sky boxes and a customised health bar. What more things could be in Voidware?

Lunar Vape is by far the best Gravity-based config on this list. Lunar Vape has a slow disabler with only reaching up to 40 speed, but it has the most impassive texture packs that detect if you're hacking and not being a pro gamer. MysticWare and Nebulaware configs have skidded their configs.

Lunar Client, by the only @skxdded, owns Lunar Client. This config has a disabler that can go up to 80 speed. This config also has a module called AntiDeath, HealthbarCustomization, and InventoryCustomization.

However, this is one of the best customisation configs.

DISCLAIMER

I recommend you DON NOT CHEAT. Giving people an unfair advantage is uncool. Don't exploit or otherwise, ROBLOX will ban you from their game using their new anti-cheat called Hyperion, a new and experimental anti-cheat that can ban hackers.

Is Grammarly the Ultimate Grammar Extension?

Stavros, Year 4

Grammarly's new technology just made it easier to improve the clarity and pronunciation of sentences you write. The new and innovative GrammarlyGO feature utilises advanced Artificial Intelligence technology from OpenAI to write, plagiarise and correct sentences setting Grammarly apart from its competitors like LanguageTool. There are many different situations where sentences might require the human touch to correct the mistakes. This new and engaging innovative feature is the Ultimate Grammar Tool for 2024?

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

particularly useful in situations where engaging with readers or advertising for a company is necessary.

The cons of Grammarly include services such as having a premium subscription. The main disadvantage of having a subscription, is that it is only affordable for the elite who can pay for it. For example, GrammarlyGO which is free only gets 100 prompts. If you subscribe, you get infinite prompts and get more spelling checks however you only get basic grammar and spelling checks. You need to pay for the plagiarism checker, and vocabulary and get suggestions to enhance your writing experience.

GrammarlyGO: A helpful AI or used for scummy tactics?

GrammarlyGO is an Artificial Intelligence tool made for users of Grammarly and Premium for the elite. This intelligence tool is used by Grammarly to bring in more premium customers, and this can be bad because you are restricted to 100 prompts, and only 100. Upgrading costs money and money costs work.

You get it? This AI sometimes does not help you at all when focusing on your school work, or thinking about the topic, and the AI thinks of it for you which means that your brain does not get the thinking exercise it needs.

The Sleepover

Sharlin, Year 1

Emily was an ordinary girl. One day Abby called her and said, "Wanna have a sleepover and play a creepy game?"

Emily agreed, "Okay, deal."

The next night, Emily met up with Abby and watched Stranger Things. Abby said, "That's so cool. I love it and can't wait for Chapter 7."

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

Emily was under a blanket, scared. She thought she had full protection by putting pillows over her. Abby said, "Silly girl! It's not real. Let's just go take a shower. Me first!" Abby ran to the bathroom and shut the door.

Emily was in terror. She ran out of the room and saw a tall white figure in the house. It was too dark for her to see. The figure was coming closer and closer. Emily saw its face. It had a scary smile and wide eyes. It had no hair and was bald. Emily screamed in horror and picked up the closest thing she could find. She threw it at the figure and ran away to never be found again.

By New Year's Eve, Emily still had not been found. Police investigated for days, almost months. They sent messages like, Emily needs to be found. Help us find her as her family is worried for her and Abby thinks she is still alive we are not sure yet. Emily's last words were "HELP!" If you find her you will get 30,000 dollars.

Abby opened the bathroom door and was shocked to find that Emily wasn't there. She went to bed.

"HAPPY NEW YEAR!" She got up.

It was 2020! Emily did her morning routine. She brushed her teeth, brushed her hair, cooked breakfast, ate it, went to her friends, and went back home.

She met a new person, June. June's besties were Emerald, Sapphire, Ruby and Crystal but Sapphire had a sister named Emily Maki (Emily's full name).

Sapphire didn't talk to anyone that day. As Abby went to lie down, she heard a noise coming from the living room so she ran back to the living room and saw Emily. She started screaming and shouting. Her mum said, "Why are you screaming?"

"I saw Em here."

"What do you mean? There's no one!"

Abby replied, "There is."

TO BE CONTINUED...

Sarah and the Dragon

Mila, Year 2

Once upon a time there lived a girl in a castle. Her name was Sarah. She loved nature so one night, she decided to escape the castle.

On her adventure, there was a problem. The moat was too deep to escape so she thought and then had an idea! Sarha silently opened the entrance of the castle and set off...

To be continued.

Pompeii

Samuel, Year 6

23-8-79

There I was again, walking down the road, arms full of bread like a foolish servant. I guess Mother doesn't want that kind of vermin touching our food.

I brought the bread home and went to my room to change. I took off my tan coloured toga and put on a stunning white one. I stumbled and fell to the floor. Ouch, I'd banged my leg.

"Manius!" Manius is our servant. He ran in shaking dust off himself.

"Don't flick dust off in my room!" I can't believe I had to say that.

"Sorry Miss Priscilla," Manius helped me up and started cleaning up the dirt he left in my room.

I have been falling over a lot recently, and it's not just me. The whole of Pompeii seems to be. The ground is shaking. Some fools are saying that it's Vulcan and Vesuvius, the mountain that watches over Pompeii, our city. It is clearly Neptune, god of the sea and quakes, but of course, nobody listens to a fifteen year old girl. There are some men out there who would rather a male servant be a senator than a woman. Of course neither of us can be senators, foolish men putting us down at servant level.

"Priscilla, are you ready?"
my Mother called.

"Yes" I replied "just dealing with Manius who left dirt all through my room. I'll have him reported to Father for it".

My seventeen year old sister Lucia,

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

walked into the room. "That oaf," she said. "He deserves a beating."

For dinner that night we went out to the local bakery. We got fresh bread, olives, beans and lamb, downed with wine.

After dinner, Father pushed Lucia towards a group of rich young men, he is always at her to get married. After that we walked back to our Domas.

24-8-79

The next morning I woke up and put on my toga. Outside I heard Father giving the slaves their morning orders. Just before father sent them off, I told Father about Manius.

"Manius!" Father called out. Manius came rushing over to us. My father gripped his whip and brought it down hard, blood burst out of Manius' already scarred back.

Then it hit suddenly, shaking the ground. My father fell as the atrium walls cracked around us. Manius struggled to his feet, grabbing the whip from the ground. I watched as Father started to pull himself up. Manius slashed the whip across Father's face and stumbled off in the direction of the door. Suddenly, without warning, a rock flew through the air and landed on Father. I screamed and landed and struggled out of the Domas. Manius was running down the street.

Suddenly filled with anger, I ran after him drawing the dagger my brother, Titus, got me. He started heading towards the southern city entrance. BOOM! A defining noise made me look back. A fiery substance was spilling from Vesuvius. A hand clasped down on my shoulder. "We need to get out." I turned around and saw Manius standing there. I forgot my urge and resheathed my dagger. Together we ran towards the city exit. The guard saw us. "Slaves aren't allowed to leave Pompeii," he declared. In one swift movement Manius slashed the whip across the guard's throat.

We got out of Pompeii and saw the red liquid slowly descend down on Pompeii, as if trying to make its death as long as possible. I sat down. I cried.

27-8-79

Isn't it a soothing sound, the waves washing over the shore? I can hear that now. The mountain blowing up

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

seems like a long time ago.

"Why?" I asked.

It's only the middle of the day but I feel so tired I could pass out. Me and Manius have walked all day every day for the past few days to get to Herculaneum, that's where I am now. Manius said he had somewhere to stay so I went to my Aunt Aelius' house, that's where my father said to go if anything happened to our Domas in Pompeii. My eyes hurt, I'm going to bed.

"No reason, just with a friend." I gave her a suspicious look.

"Anyway, I was out there with...a friend, when Vesuvius exploded, so it was easy for me to escape. I was near the docks so I hopped on Father's boat he always keeps there, and came here."

"Why did it take you so long?" Aunt Aelius asked.

28-8-79

In the morning I woke up and put on my toga. I went outside to collect the bread for Aunt Aelius. After that Aunt had one of her servants wash my feet. There was a knock at the door. "Severus!" Aelius called. Another servant rushed into the entrance hall and opened the door. Standing there was my favourite person in the world, Lucia. I jumped up and ran to the door. Aunt invited her inside.

"Oh," said Lucia "I was shipwrecked. I couldn't see where I was going in all the ash and crashed into some rocks, from there I walked here."

"What about your friend?" I asked.

"Oh, I left him behind, he was annoying".

"Him?"

"I hoped you'd be here," she said to me. I stepped forward and hugged her. Then we all sat down to listen to her story.

Hearing and experiencing all these things has made me realise how strong I am. In ordinary life, I often think I'm not. I guess Father always expected me to be weak and treated me like it, but being in a situation where he isn't in control has made me realise I don't need a journal to pretend to myself that I am strong. I am strong and I survived.

"I'd been out on the edge of the city that morning".

The Haunted Hospital

Belle, Year 2

A long time ago there was a hospital building. It was used in World War 2 for sick or hurt soldiers and because so many people died. Nowadays, people think it's haunted...and it is!

One day, a class called 3K came to do an excursion for history class to investigate the scene. In 3K, there was a girl called Milly and she was very interested. Milly loved creepy stuff, especially haunted things. Milly had so many questions like: Is this place really haunted? And, will we see any ghosts?

They walked down the hill and into the main building where all the leaders were replaced. Next they went to the other hospital rooms. In the last hospital room, 3K felt a chill. "What was that?" Milly asked eagerly.

"I don't know," the tour guide Amelia answered. "I've never felt a chill before."

Milly started to investigate. "Have people died here?"

"A few," Amelia answered.

"How many exactly?" she continued.

"33," Amelia said.

3K turned to look at each other and ran out the door but Milly stayed to investigate further. Just then, she found some blood on the floor. "Has there ever been a murder here?" she called out to Amelia.

"You bet!" she called back.

Then it hit her! She called for her class to come back to explain what she found out. "Amelia said that there have been murders here, right? I asked after I found blood on the floor," she said pointing to the splotch of blood she had found. "Then it hit me! There is a ghost, but we just can't see them, we can only feel them," she finished explaining.

"Ahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh!" the class exclaimed. Finally they left.

When Milly got home she told her parents all about it.

"Wow!" her parents exclaimed, "What a day you had! Get into bed, you need some sleep." So Milly hopped into bed and thought. She thought and thought and thought until she finally fell asleep.

Unofficial Minecraft Compilation

Toby, Year 5 & Felix, Year 4

The amazing world of MINECRAFT
The Adventures of Hamish
How do you expect a normal villager to live their life? Book #1
The Adventures of Hamish (and his player Steve)

I grip my Netherite sword as tight as my blocky fist can. I have heard stories about the end and the mythical Ender Dragon. But here I am standing in front of the End Portal, wearing only gold armour. "I am doing this for my animal pack," I thought.

Now, you may not know about my animal pack, so I ought to tell you.

You see, my animal pack is made up of chickens, horses, cows, wolves, mooshrooms and basically every other passive mob in the overworld. They provide company, offence and defence. And I couldn't survive without them.

Now, back to me. Sadly, I hadn't noticed I was waist deep in cobwebs. Or that I was surrounded by spiders. And not just spiders... "Cave spiders!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!" I thought. I try to get away, but then I remember that cobwebs s l o w you down. I swap my sword for a pair of shears. "Maybe they'll help me in the end," I thought. As I passed through the ender portal, I saw my ender animal pack. I wasn't worried, though. You see, my Steve is a programmer, so he made his own mod. The mod makes it so animals are always tame, and so when mobs change form, an exact replica of them appears in block heaven. Block Heaven is home to some of the only natural outputs of prismarine, dark prismarine and magic block but to get there you need a flying helmet or chariot. You need a turtle shell, elytra and magic sand to craft a flying helmet, and you need 7 flying helmets and magic sand to craft a flying chariot.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

But right now I have to defeat the Ender Dragon, the one thing keeping me from my friends. I hold a block of stone. I know how to be prepared when I'm travelling to a bunch of barren islands floating directly over the void. Apparently, it also helps make stairs to get up obsidian pillars. After a while, I made it up there, so I took out my redstone pickaxe and gave it a big ol' whack. You see, my Steve's mod also allows redstone tools, which triggers a block's function which, for an end crystal, is to instantly blow up and remove the layer of blocks beneath it from existence. Then I varied between stone and my redstone pickaxe. Suddenly, the dragon eyes glowed gentle purple, and it charged at me. I quickly destroyed the last crystal and got ready to fight...

Book#2 The BBB (Big Bad Battle)

I swung my trident enchanted with loyalty at the great beast but it wasn't a headshot. "Clumsy me," I thought. The next shot hit him square in the eye though. "Wow," I thought, "that was hard," then I ran for cover. Just then, the ender dragon swooped up from the gaping grey void. I was about to strike when I got distracted by an enderman holding something. It couldn't be... it was... a flying chariot!

Suddenly, everything went black. When I woke up, I was almost surrounded by endermen in a huge throne made of dark prismarine, end stone, obsidian and magic block. "Welcome, primitive new leader," rasped an enderman.

"You can talk?" I asked.

"Every mob can talk in the end," it replied. "We love new specimens... errr, friends to say 'what are your features?'...I mean, 'hello' to. Oh, what the heck," With that, they threw a flurry of magic sand around me and the next thing I knew, I was on an island surrounded by lava in a redstone testing lab.

I needed to get out of there if I wanted to battle the ender dragon! I grabbed a pick axe and tried to crack the redstone code. It would have taken ages to get out, if I didn't see the pressure plates on the floor. I crept down a narrow hallway and entered the battle ground, as the ender dragon soared through the void and headed towards the small bedrock pillar in the middle of the battle field. Then, with a swing of my redstone

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

pickaxe, it obliterated into XP.

Finally I collected all the XP, then finished off the ender dragon. As soon as I did so, I realised the mobs were in hot pursuit. I quickly snagged the flying chariot and ran. I managed to lose them and get to block heaven...

Book #3block heaven

As I reached block heaven, I wasn't exactly greeted by a warm welcome and parade. Upon landing I was met by a hellfire of flaming arrows.

As I dodged and ducked, a tiny voice squeaked "let him in."

As I entered the room, I looked around and didn't see the owner of the voice.

"Down here" it came again, and this time I looked down and saw the most adorable baby iron golem I had ever seen, and trust me, I've seen a lot of baby iron golems in my time. "Who are you, cutie? Where is your family?" I cooed.

"I am minegod!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!" he replied "and you are trespassing on my property! Sic, golem guards, sic!" and with that, an army of snow golems advanced on me. Some were armed with swords, some with axes, and some with the crossbows that must have produced the blazing arrows that met me on entry. I have gotten out of many a nasty scrape in my time, but I had to admit, I had no idea how I was going to get out of this one.

Book #4: animal pack to the rescue! Bam! Just as all the weapons were aimed at me, something smashed through the wall! When the smoke cleared, standing there was my animal pack! The battle raged on for days, months, years, decades, centuries, millennia, eras!... for at least 11 minutes. As the pack took a break, they looked pretty down. I realised they needed a battle strategy.

"Ok guys, we need a plan. Horses, you make sure none of the melee soldiers escape. Wolves, you attack the archers on the parapet, their flaming arrow really packs a punch. Chickens, those swords men don't stand a chance. Pigs, axe wielders. Cows, ground archers. sheep, protect the others. others, fan out and maintain your ground. Now get out there and make me proud!!!" I said to them, and that seemed to do the trick. Now, they were obviously overwhelming the minegods forces. Once he was guardless, minegod fled like a child away from a zombie (and I know what that looks like, it happened in my village (the child survived.)).

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

With him gone, this thought popped into my head: how were we going to get home?!?!

Diary of a minecraft villager

Book #5 the end? Or the beginning?

Suddenly, I heard a whooshing sound, and as I looked up, I saw a meteor made of obsidian hurtling down towards me! They were everywhere! As it hit me, I did the only thing left to do.

I fainted.

As I came to I found myself spiralling to the ground at an alarming pace, the sheer force of the meteor pinning me down. I quickly scrambled on top of the meteor, and saw the rest of my animal pack had done the same. As they crashed into the ground, my animal pack clambered off their meteorites, eager to properly greet me after that whole fiasco. I did it! Scritch, scratch... I actually did it! Scritch, scratch... What is that bothersome noise?

Agh! Cave spider (again?)!

Huh... I guess it is odd I landed in the exact same place that I started...

But who cares! Now I am reunited with the only thing closer to family than Steve and the other villagers. And also, I was currently under attack by cave spiders! "It's ok, guys. We just gotta stay calm. Don't move a muscle," I muttered in a low tone. We stood there, silent, unmoving as the spiders crawled over to observe us. After what seemed an age, one of my favourite chickens, Paul (or was it Brian?), could bear the suspense no longer and started flapping around in a tizzy, followed closely by the rest of my animal pack, and just like that, the chase was on. We started off circumnavigating the strange pagoda, until one of the horses, the one called Jane, decided to start tearing through the great temple-like build, and if there's one thing you need to know about my pack it is that if one of them decides on something, the rest generally end up following in hot pursuit. We charged up the stairs to evade the red eyed monstrosities. Just as they had cornered us on a balcony 200 blocks up, and were stalking us, waiting for the perfect moment to strike, I unsheathed my Netherite sword as if out of thin air. "oh yeah," I said sheepishly "I forgot I had that,". It was a long and devastating struggle, but after about 20 minutes, I managed to prevail. Then we looked around to properly observe the level which we were on. We quickly realised we were on the top floor, and that the battle between me and the cave spiders had destroyed a lot of the surrounding blocks, which had blocked our only hope of escape. We also noticed someone had used a texture pack to build the place, which was strange as my steve didn't believe in texture packs, but that was the least of my worries, because

We could hear

Scuttling and rattling

Heading up

the stairs

Towards

us...

To be continued...

The Necromancy

Files 2

Luka, Year 3

Mummy, I'm scared!

Chapter 1 The Great Rewind

YAWN! Hey, remember me?! I'm in high school now. Also, remember the cool story I told you when I was 10? Yeah...I've got more. SOOOOOOOOOOO I was sneaking into my primary school with my friends when we went inside an abandoned classroom and found a trapdoor... blah...blah...OK! SO! CHAPTER 2...I-I think...

Chapter 2 The Mysterious Map

I woke up from bed recalling my dream and forgetting about it. I walked down the hall. There were rooms on the side of the hallway. At the end there was a spiral staircase leading all the way down to the dining room/kitchen. On the side of the dining room or kitchen was a living room. I walked to the fridge next to the counter, opened it and grabbed some milk and cereal.

In a drawer below the counter was a collection of plates, bowls and other silverware. I grabbed a turquoise bowl and poured some milk and then put in some cereal. I looked out of the glass door and I saw a big red truck stop near my new house. A mail man came out the door of the red truck and put in the daily mail. I went outside and the truck drove away. I opened the mailbox and grabbed the daily mail. It was normal except for one thing. An old piece of paper. I went inside and sat down at my table about to open it but then, my ginger cat fireball jumped up and stole it. I chased him around the house until fireball jumped over the table and I jumped over it too and the table broke unfortunately, BUT! Fortunately, I got the piece of paper. I opened it and turns out... instead of being news... It was a map to a pyramid of sorts. But on top of the pyramid was a treasure chest. So there has to be some awesome award at the end! So I called my friend.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

Chapter 3 The Plan of Peril

"Ring, ring, ring..." NO ANSWER! It had been two minutes! But then I noticed the ringing was... FAKE! I said, "Corey...I know that's fake." I heard a moan coming from the phone, then a, "fine, you got me...So...what do you want?"

"Your van," I said.

"WHAT! M-M-M-MY WONDERFUL BEAUTIFUL VAN? Okay, you can have it."

I got ready to walk to Corey's house.

Chapter 4 Pedal To The Metal

When I finally arrived, I was surprised to see that Corey's van was already outside and it was some sort of van the army would've used. The van lights turned on, blinding me. The door to the van opened and a voice said, "Hey, come on in, or are you...A CHICKEN!"

Immediately I realised that it was Corey. I walked in the van. The interior of the vehicle was like the future. Then Corey's dad, Ethan Etheran, asked, "Now shall we put the pedal to the metal?"

Chapter 5 The Hotel

Ethan Etheran said, "Kids we're 'ere!" We stepped out of the van just for Corey to say, "Hey, that van was $1500."

I then said, "No wonder it looked so cool!"

Corey responded, "It was for an alien movie. When the film was completed and published, the owner of the studio made a deal with Dad to buy the van."

"But how? It's so expensive!"

"Dad got the money from the film." Ethan said.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

I asked, "What was the film called?"

"Extraterrestrial 4," Corey responded. I looked at the map. Me, Corey and Ethan found an Egyptian themed hotel. Ethan went inside the hotel to sign in and get us a room. Suddenly we saw two cars park nearby; one black, one red. The doors of the two cars opened and suddenly Tyler and Oliver walked out of the cars. "Guys!" we yelled.

They shouted the same thing back and we hugged. Ethan appeared out of the door leading inside the hotel. He said, "Come on," and went back in and slept for the night.

Chapter 6 Surprise

We woke up in the hotel. I grabbed the map and looked at it. "Okay guys, let's go find some treasure!"

We stepped out of the room and walked to the exit. The group split up because we were going in our own vehicles. I went in Corey's van, still surprised by the interior of it. We took off.

A few minutes later we found figures on the side of the desert highway. We assumed they were the remains from a destroyed pyramid and statues. A few kilometers later we were still seeing these strange statues. Suddenly, the road started getting bumpy and getting more bumpy by the second! Eventually it got so bumpy, it spun the van as if it were a baby tortoise! After it was flipped, Ethan pulled out a shotgun from the wall of the van, "Stand back!" he shouted.

From the dust, a figure emerged and put his rotten, bandage-wrapped hand onto the glass, shattering it in one single hit. BOOM! A yellowish-orange light filled the van and the mummy figure was thrown back into the dust. "This was not a map to treasure!" Corey shouted. "This is a trap!" And then I suddenly remembered when I was 10. Thumping fists echoed through the vehicle, and we saw more mummies.

Chapter 7 The Chase

SCREECH! POW! In a deep voice, Oliver said, "Come with me if you want to live!" We looked at him until he said the word seriously. We jumped off the van and into Oliver's car. Oliver's mum, Danielle, put her boot on the brakes and immediately, the red car screached and drove away. Corey said, "Mummies on our tail!" Oliver and I looked back and confirmed that his observation was valid.

"Drive faster mum!"

The car screeched again and got faster. A bulge burst out of the ground. "Not again!" I said but instead of getting flipped, Danielle used the bulges as a ramp. We got launched in the air but gravity exists so we got pulled back down. CRASH! We crawled out of the door to find ourselves in a tomb.

To be continued.

The Voice Referendum

Joanna, Year 6

What is it?

The Voice referendum is a referendum that is asking "A Proposed Law: to alter the Constitution to recognise the First Peoples of Australia by establishing an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Voice. Do you approve this proposed alteration?" to all Australians over the age of 18.

What is a Referendum?

A referendum is a nationwide yes or no vote on a question about a suggested change to the Constitution. The Constitution is Australia's rule book. The Constitution was created on January 1st 1901 when Australia became a Federation.

What was the Result?

The nationwide result of the referendum was no. 39.9% of Australia's population voted yes and the other 60.1% voted no. Out of the six states and two territories, only one (ACT) had a majority vote of yes with 61.3% and no having 38.7%.

Why Did Some People Vote No?

Some people were sending misinformation and lies in social media and that had a big impact on many people's vote.

A minority of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people were campaigning for no because they want a treaty before a voice. They think it is more important to have recognition and agreement over a voice to the constitution.

Some others were against this because they had no care and some were scared or racist and thought it would give some Australians too much power.

"People didn't say No to reconciliation, they said No to improving the lives of Indigenous Australians."

Why Did Some People Vote Yes?

Some people voted yes because they thought it give Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders better treatment. They thought it will lead to more rights and recognition in the Australian Constitution of the oldest continous living cultures in the world.

Locomotive of Residence

Miguel, Year 3

Mick got out of bed, in a cabin in Oakhill Woods. He worked as a delivery person, delivering specific pieces of cargo to a specific variety of people. He walked through his oak-built home, worked his way to the door and went outside.

Mick owned a metal garage where he stored his car. He bought a Ford Angela a few months ago on a rainy day in March. He got a Mini a few years back but it broke down beyond repair. He lived in the city back then, so it was hard to get anywhere on time.

Mick opened his car door and went inside. He had a beautiful leather seat made by the best of the best. He started the car up as it made multiple revvings as a sign of starting it up. Mick stomped on the accelerator and sped out of sight.

The road had a nauseating number of twists and turns. He almost crashed into a fence once but eventually made it to Oakhill Road then Oakhill Station.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

He made his way into the cargo bay. His boss assigned him to deliver a supply of money to an anonymous person. He watched as the cargo workers supplied the money into a big boy. After they were done he walked inside the locomotive. Nelson the charcoal supplier greeted him as he strode towards the driver area. He sat down and blew his whistle a few times. Eventually he started up the train and rode off into the shiny dawn.

Mick heard the clattering sound of charcoal hitting the fiery surface. He was twisting through rails and got out of Oakhill Road, and into Twilight Avenue, a lively suburb on the outskirts of Marrickville City. He was rushing past long grasses and weeds. He made it to a stop sign and watched as cars zoomed past. Then the traffic lights went green and he continued his exciting journey.

Mick eventually made it to the famous Mosbark Forest. He was getting closer to the assigned person. As he went deeper into the forest, the thicker the branches, trees, and woods became.

As he went even further, the thinner the trees were. That was a good sign. They were getting closer.

Further ahead was a fork in the rails. He stopped. It should be set out for him, knowing that the primary rail should be pointing to the left. But no, it was pointing to the right. Should it be like this? No, it can't! He had the whole track map right in front of him. Could this be a sabotage? Maybe his boss did it? But, if the delivery fails... He can't get any money himself. So that scratches him off the suspect board.

He told Nelson about this problem. He said blankly, "I don't know." He let out a sigh after that. Wait, what if someone in the forest did this. But, who would survive in the forest? He decided to deal with it and go outside and switch the rails himself. The towering branches above him cast an ominous shadow, covering him whole. It took him about 15 minutes to find the lever. It was covered in vines, moss and overgrowth. He only spotted it when he saw a large stick that was breaking the laws of physics itself. But, when he looked closer, infact. He found out that it was the lever.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

When he tried to activate it, the lever felt like a metal rod he was trying to pull out of concrete. He only switched the rails when Nelson helped him pull it down. He went back inside and started up the train again. He went out of that forest before you could blink.

He ended up in the city. He went through a tunnel and out into the bright light of the day. After about 10 kilometres, he stopped outside a cargo bay area. He stopped the train and watched as the unloaders unattached the cargo and put it on the ground. Job done. The only thing the unloaders needed to do next was to give the cargo down a hill. They blacked out.

When Mick woke up, Nelson was standing over him. It was daytime too. Mick stood up. They were completely lost. They heard a sound like chanting. Thinking this was their only hope, they wandered towards it. The forest was filled with overgrowth, roots and plants. It was getting harder to traverse the forest as casino, open it, take out the money, and put it in the safe. But, fortunately for Mick, he did his part. And can go back to the station. On the way he would have to stop at a motel to rest, mainly because this journey took a long part of the 24 hours he had.

After about 10 hours he stopped his train at a station. Nelson and Mick got out of the train. It was about 11PM. As their bodies made contact with the freezing night air, Mick sighed, "Come on, it's freezing." Since they couldn't find a parking slot for a train, they had to find the nearest parking slot for a train they could find. Mick pulled out a map. The managers sent the train employees the map so they could find their way to the motel. It was easy. Just a straight path he needed to follow. But they had to go through the forest. They started walking so they could reach the motel quicker. After about half an hour they walked to the entrance to the forest.

They went in. It produced an ominous feeling in their heart. And their winds were so hard it pushed them off their path. And it was so cold it started to make goosebumps pop up down his whole body. But Nelson and Mick pushed on. Suddenly they heard a loud CRACK! A tree fell down right above them. They both roll and duck. They stood up and brushed the dirt off their clothes. Turns out multiple trees crashed, blocking their way. It was about midnight and it was pitch black. They walked around aimlessly, until Mick fell over. Apparently Nelson stumbled down too. They rolled on. Mick blacked out. When Mick woke up he found a distraught Nelson looking over him. "What happened?" He said, Mick said, "I don't know." They seemed to be in a tropical forest, covered with overgrowth, consisting of roots, trees and vines. Mick stood up. He looked around. He could hear a faint chant far away. Since it was the only sign of human life in the tropical forest he strode toward the sound.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

It seemed like hours before he spotted a camp filled with people. The two train workers walked towards the mysterious group of people. The people looked towards them. Mick said, "Hello, We crashed a few miles back, can we stay here for the night?" The oldest of the group came up to Mick and greeted him, "Hello, foreigners, you are welcome to stay as long as you don't wander out at night." "Ok." Mick agreed to this strange rule and sat down. The elder said, "Would you like to go hunting with us?" They agreed. As they got up the Elder led them towards a gap in the overgrowth. They followed him until they stopped behind a massive bush. "This is where prey commonly comes out. They heard an animal snort and aimed their bows and instantly killed it! They continued this until sunset and got about 50 animals down. They went back to the tent and watched as the tribe cooked the meat. After the meat was cooked, they set it down on the table and started dinner. After the wonderful feast, they went to designated homes where they started their descent to sleep.

Later, they heard a weird blood curdling sound. Like a man screaming, being tortured. They peeked outside our tent. Suddenly the tribe turned fastly towards them. Nelson whispered into Mick's ear. They swiftly closed the tent door and looked around for a possible escape route without confronting the tribe. They crawled through a rip and went back in the direction of the train. There it was, the unclimbable hill that knocked them out. It was too steep and they fell back down. They saw a mass of blazing fire and orange that would tell the coming of the angry tribe. Mick suddenly had a vision of survival master Rick (an aussie man who taught people to survive in the wilderness). Then Mick felt something and he knew what to do. Like a monkey Mick rushed up the hill and leaped on the vine swinging safely on to the top of the hill. He saw Nelson and the oncoming tribe so he grasped a branch and broke it and twisted it into a ladder for Nelson to climb. He grabbed on and crawled to where Mick was. They rushed back to the train but it wasn't there. They walked on and saw dots of light. They ran towards it and onto the broken set of rails. They walked back towards the motel and there they found the train! Apparently it was being repaired by engineers.

They slept peacefully and quietly knowing that there would be no threat now and when they woke up their train would be up and running and they could go home.

Skibidi Toilet

Dimitri, Year 4

Skibidi Toilet is a show on YouTube that has 68 episodes to date. It is about a guy sticking his head on a toilet that has gone deep into lore about TV Man, Speakerman and Cameraman who are trying to fight the Skibidi Toilets.

It used to be a meme with only a few views on YouTube but early this year it became popular and the series has continued. Since February, some videos have been viewed 135 million times. If you are Gen Alpha, chances are you have heard of or viewed this series on YouTube.

If you are not aware, here is a first person description of the series...

POV Cameraman was getting back from school to home until G-Man Toilet came to earth with lasers, getting prepared to rule the world with Skibidi Toilets.

A lot of Skibidi Toilets came to POV Cameraman's car but I rammed into the Skibidi Toilets to destroy them. We were safe but we had a short time because we need protection from the toilets that will destroy us.

When POV Cameraman got into the base, the only remaining toilet became a Skibidi Toilet and he was so shocked about this, he flushed the toilet. The head inside goes into the vents and drowns from the dirty water in the vents.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

We were our world's hope to defeat the toilets. Most people have been transferred to a toilet and have been flushed.

We watched the news and Cameramen saw news reporters turn into a Skibidi Toilet and explained that there were now Cameramen, Speakermen and TV Men on this planet and all toilets were trained to attack the Cameramen.

All of the Cameramen were in big danger. They were not prepared for the large toilets that were about to attack our base, that is until Titan Cameraman came and helped us defeat the Military Toilet, Large Toilet and Strider Toilet.

Somehow, the Triplet Toilet came and it was over but the Triplet Toilet attacked one by one, and Titan Cameraman flushed two toilets. Now it's one so the last toilet near the titan was fried by him.

As POV Cameraman was recording, G-Man came near the titan. G-Man shot laser eyes at him. He pulled his shield out of his back, blocking until the Rocket Toilet came, exploded his shield and lost his arm. He had to leave immediately to get his arm repaired and some upgrades.

After the Titan Cameraman lost his arm, we were having trouble fighting the toilets. One of the toilets was the Triple head toilet, all in one toilet, the POV cameraman fell down when the triple toilet came to him but the Speakermen came to flush the toilet down and helped him get up.

They were having a party while doing the Orange Justice dance. POV Cameraman saw lots of toilets and the Speakermen had to wear headphones to not get destroyed.

One of the Speakermen gave the headphones to Cameraman and used the Speaker Strider to destroy lots of toilets. They did the dance when the music was playing.

The POV Cameraman had a rampage while destroying toilets one by one until a Large Toilet came, that is until Large Speakerman came and flushed the toilet. Large Speakerman and cameraman saw the Robber Toilet but Titan Speakerman came and used its cannon to damage him, then used a punch and flushed him.

A cameraman snuck inside of a toilet

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

base to see what was going on and there were Large toilets and the Mafia Toilet. One of the Large Toilets saw Cameraman and they started to all look at him until Titan Speakerman blasted the roof.

He blasted the large toilets. The Mafia Toilet flew up at Titan Speakerman and he slapped the toilet, causing an explosion.

Some Cameramen and Speakermen were partying until a mysterious toilet came. Large Speakerman went up to the Glitch Toilet and then Glitch Toilet destroyed the speaker. He went on a rampage on the Cameramen and the Speakermen and the POV Cameraman was destroyed.

The toilets were fighting the Speakermen and the Cameramen which were powerful toilets but the Camo Toilet 2.0 came and he had lasers and used them to destroy Cameraman and Speakerman. That is until Titan Speakerman came and used his cannon to blast him.

He didn't know that Scientist Toilet had 2 parasites on him. Titan Speakerman was still fighting the Camo Toilet 2.0 until the parasites jumped on the back of his head. When he was done fighting the toilet. He screamed, taking out one of the parasites but it was too late.

Titan Speakerman was infected and destroyed Cameramen and Speakermen.

After Titan Speakerman got infected, G-Man and Infected Titan Speakerman were an unbeatable duo together. They caused rampage on the alliance.

The POV Cameraman was recording for the Cameramen that fought the toilets until an Upgraded Toilet fell him down until the TV-Man came. He used his light ability on the Upgraded Toilet which he was stunned.

The POV Cameraman had a chance to flush the toilet down. He flushed the toilet then TV-Man stopped using his light ability.

After that happened, lots of large Toilets came, one of the TV-Men told him to back away and then another TV-Men gave the POV Cameraman protection so he can not be destroyed.

Then we see Large TV-Man move and he has lots of TVs and he used them

STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Edition 10 2023

so the toilets move backwards fast which caused almost all the toilets to be destroyed.

POV Cameraman has seen lots of toilets moving, TV-Men has came and one of them told the POV to put on his protection.

He does it then we see Titan TV Man hid from a building then he came out and used Red Screen of Death. The toilets were having a hard time so they flushed themselves.

In episode 44, we see Titan TV Man punch large toilets down, making the other toilets be destroyed and then he saw Octo Toilet, he has sunglasses but Titan TV Man punches him and uses his Red Screen ability but the Octo Toilet explodes.

A rocket hits Titan TV Man and he turns around to see that theres multiple rockets on a toilet and he has sunglasses, he takes another rocket but then Titan TV Man turns into Cinema-Man and uses his Red Screen and the two toilets protecting him go onto the toilet and explode.

We see Infected Titan Speakerman going towards Cinema-Man and uses his blaster to shoot 2 orbs at him but he doesnt take any damage but then Cinema-Man uses his knife ability to grab one of the speakers off then Infected Titan Speakerman flew to somewhere else.

POV Cameraman sees a Speakerman trying to protect from the Upgraded Skibidi Toilet himself but a Large Cameraman came and throwed the toilet then POV Cameraman sees a toilet thats strange but his name is Vacuum Toilet.

He sees some cameraman running so he sucked them all up but Cinema-Man came and Vacuum Toilet tries to attack Cinema-Man but he uses his claw from the back and destroys Vacuum Toilet and we see the Cameramen that got sucked up, climbed out of the toilet and gave a thumbs up.

We see Infected Titan Speakerman flying near destroyed buildings but we see Cinema-Man and then came G-Man Toilet 2.0, G-Man used all of his lasers but when he stopped Cinema-Man used his Red Screen of Death.

We see Flying Dual Buzzsaw Toilet, cut off his speakers he had on his shoulders then his claws which he used to attack him then Cinema-Man uses his grappling hook.

G-Man used his lasers to remove his last speaker on his chest but Cinema-Man used his Red Screen of Death but Infected Titan Speakerman came and used a knife to break his TV on the head. Injured Titan TV Man used his block and G-Man was firing lasers so he teleported to the Cameraman Base.

Murder Mystery

Christopher, Year 3

Murder Mystery 2 is a fun game in Roblox where there is a person trying to kill you while there is another person protecting you. Other people are just casual players who do not have any role but to survive.

Roles

Innocent: No weapons but can become a hero.

Sheriff: Has a gun to kill the murder.

Murderer: Has a knife to stab and throw the knives to kill people.

Hero: Players need to be innocent to get this. Firstly, grab the gun when the sheriff gets killed then shoot the murderer so it says Victory and A hero saved the day!

Murder Mystery 2 is a very hard game to play but, once you get going with the game, you will get it.

There are events such as Halloween and Christmas.

There are ripoffs which you should not play because they are not similar to the actual game, such as giving you free stuff at zero coins, or doing Christmas when it is November.

I recommend you play it when you are eight years old or over.

